

Peek Inside the Langford Hotel, Now Open in Downtown Miami

The Langford Hotel is open for business.

The Downtown Miami boutique hotel was built in 1925 and just had its grand opening. It has 126 guest rooms and features a couple of PubbellyBoys creations in restaurant PB Station and rooftop lounge Pawn Broker.

"It would have been easier to have this property demolished and build a high rise," Miami Mayor Tomás Regalado said at the ribbon-cutting event. "But I grew up walking the streets of downtown with this building ... Today we are happy we kept this piece of history."

Formerly the Miami National Bank, the property was designated a historic site in 1989.
