Head inland to the
Sedona Rouge
Hotel & Spa

Take a break from the water and head for the mountains to the Sedona Rouge Hotel & Spa in the picturesque Sedona, Arizona. Minutes from uptown Sedona, Tlaquepaque Arts & Crafts Village, and Gallery Row, Sedona Rouge is adjacent to hundreds of acres of designated national forest land, providing visitors with a luxurious setting, majestic vistas, and a gateway to exploration in an area often called “Red Rock Country.”

Accommodations are designed to capture the spirit of Andalusia luxury, with deep colors woven through soft fabrics and comfortable furnishings. Rooms are appointed with custom king or double queen beds, luscious linens and goose down feather duvets, a chaise lounge, ornate desk, and Syrian chest. Guest rooms also have 32 LCD flat-screen televisions and spacious walk-in showers with overhead rainshower sprays. Many feature vaulted ceilings, fireplaces, and viewing balconies with delicate ironwork.

Reds, the resort’s contemporary bistro lounge and bar, features gourmet cuisine, delicious comfort food, and small-plate appetizers. For dinner, indulge in scallop tacos or a grilled rib-eye followed by a classic crème brûlée. Or, order a small plate of beef sliders or fish sliders in the lounge. An extensive wine list features a range of wines that complement the cuisine.

The 5,000-square-foot Spa at Sedona Rouge is a full-service spa set apart from the main hotel building. The spa features 10 treatment rooms and seven specially designed spa guest rooms including one spa suite. Treatments are seasonal and focus on caring for the body and clearing and centering the mind. There is a tranquility room and garden, which are perfect for relaxing before and after treatments, indoor and outdoor whirlpools, and a couple’s treatment room with soaking tub, private outdoor shower, and massage tables.

In addition, the resort’s 700-square-foot fitness center boasts state-of-the-art exercise equipment, a personal trainer available by appointment, and toga and tai chi classes. Another great resort amenity is the Observation Terrace for red rock viewing and stargazing.
