A throwback to the Ramos Gin Fizz, Frank Sinatra's must-have hangover elixir, the Peppermint Patty combines the sweetness of curaçao with the bite of ginger. To make this quencher, bartenders combine Stoli Elite, lemon and pineapple juices, Pierre Ferrand Dry Curaçao and heavy whipping cream. The mix is served in a white wine glass with a splash of ginger beer.

The Inspiration: "The Peppermint Patty cocktail was inspired by my favorite candy growing up as a kid. It has a taste that is very much reminiscent of the holidays, which is bound to make people smile before, during and after the holidays." — Rafael Vazquez, mixologist and assistant general manager, Forbes Travel Guide Recommended Bourbon Steak, Miami by Michael Mina
