Anguilla

Elegantly blending traditional culture with the modern, Shoal Bay East welcomes the new boutique property, Zemi Beach House. The resort takes its name from the three-point stone that the indigenous Taino people worshipped as the "dwelling place of the spirit." Details that integrate the natural beauty of Anguilla with a modern yet classic Caribbean resort certainly allow travelers to feel refreshed and even reinvented. With ocean views, private terraces, and plunge pools, the Caribbean air caresses all cares away. A visit to the Zemi Thai House Spa takes relaxation to heights of enlightenment. An authentic Thai house that was transported to Anguilla in the 1980s, the spa envelopes guests in Taino bathing rituals that awaken social and sensory awareness, using temperature changes, herbs, and native plants.

Meander the property, enjoying all the resort amenities from watersports motorized and non-motorized to a kid's club. This family-friendly escape beckons guests who want to escape from it all with round-the-clock concierge service that extends even beachside. Fitness enthusiasts can indulge in outdoor sports or even the indoor gym. All this exertion will be needed to work off the ample dining experiences available. From casual beachside dining to elegant cocktails and tastings in a landmark Rhum Room that serves up "world-renowned, small-batch estate Rhum," the resort promises many unique ventures.

This respite beckons travelers to come, relax, and luxuriate in the amenities; even en-suite kitchens have private chefs, if so desired. And if you need to stay connected to the outside world, the in-room high speed WI-FI and Cable TV with international channels are sure to suffice. And who could resist the three-bedroom penthouses with terraces, a living room, kitchen, and rooftop plunge pool?

Zemi Beach House will first unlock 70 well-appointed doors on February 1. Guests arriving later in the year will be delighted to see additional rooms, but also a luxurious residence option with a rental program featuring studios and beachfront residences ranging from $600,000 to $2.1 million www.zemibeach.com. # Nevis

Paradise Beach creates a luxurious residence where the East meets the West Indies. Guests sleep under 30-foot beamed thatched roof ceilings, atop tones of rich deep mahogany wood fixtures and furniture. Seven 2 – 4 bedroom villas opened in June with sprawling living space. To the delight of travelers, the villa's personal butler emails guests for pre-arrival orders to stock the refrigerator with desired delicacies. A pleasurable arrival is only punctuated with a soak in the sunken marble tub. There is simply a different sensation stepping down into your bath and submerging full body. The sensory stimulation is only equaled by a private outdoor rainfall shower.

The Balinese-inspired decor with wall-to-wall and floor-to-ceiling sliding glass doors, enhances views of Mount Nevis and the Caribbean Sea – simply stated, this is your own piece of tropical paradise. With its proximity to other appealing Caribbean retreats, allow yourself to be enticed to take day trips to neighboring St. Barths, Anguilla, or St. Kitts, which are all readily accessible by private plane.
